4. Nashua Community Power Program Review

- The Committee Briefly Discussed:
 - The current structure of the Nashua Community Power Program
 - Services provided through the Community Power Coalition of New Hampshire
 - Benefits and challenges of the current program structure
 - Large time commitment from staff
 - Rates not always competitive with the utility default alternative
 - A voice in energy related regulatory and legislative proceedings for default rate supply
 - Including information on the number of electric vehicles purchased by the City.
 - Exploring calculations that could demonstrate the relationship between emissions reductions and potential cost reductions associated with social services.

5. Establish Community Power Program Evaluation Criteria:

- Discussed how they might move forward with evaluating how the Nashua Community Power Program performing.
- The committee discussed some concerns about its participation in the Community Power Coalition and found that what is most important to Nashua Community Power is having low competitive rates.

- The committee came to a consensus that they will wait and observe how rate setting goes for the Community Power Coalition of New Hampshire in December 2026 and how the Public Utility Commission's strategy for proxy rate setting changes to decide if Nashua Community Power will move forward with a formal evaluation of The Community Power Coalition's ability to effectively administer the program and provide low competitive rates to Nashua Residents.

6. Next Meeting

- The Committee will skip it's October meeting and meet on November 18th.
 - The Community Power Coalition will be invited to that meeting to give a presentation on program financials.
